WEATHER NOTES.

Complete Report
For the Last Month.

RECORDS UNUSUAL ISLAND RAINFALL

General All Over the Islands and of Great Value to Plantation Owners.

The meteorological summary for the month of January by Professor Curtis J. Lyons shows a wonderful rainfall over the Islands. The greatest fall during the month occurred on the Island of Maui at Nāhiku station, where 17.04 inches of rain was precipitated, while Nuuanu station on the Island of Oahu records a fall of 14.10 inches. Rain has been general throughout the month and has been of great value to the plantation owners.

The report in detail is as follows:
METEOROLOGICAL SUMMARY FOR
THE MONTH OF JANUARY, 1901.

JESSIE JORDAN FOSTER BELIEVES HUSBAND TRUE

JESSIE JORDAN FOSTER.

THE PICTURE is made from the latest photograph of the chorus girl who recently bestowed her heart and hand upon Gerard S. Foster, of Utica, N. Y., a Harvard student of great financial expectations, who, in a palace car, followed the company with which she was playing over New England during an entire week. This up-to-date heroine in the theatrical world expresses the most unshakable confidence in the fidelity of her recently acquired spouse, whose departure a week after his wedding has rendered it necessary for her return to the chorus again as a means of subsistence.

MAKING READY FOR THE MARDI GRAS

The Drill Shed Being Put in Condition for the Big Ball.

Contractor Paty yesterday made the chips fly in the drill shed. By 5 o'clock last evening he had the framework for the Mardi Gras boxes in position and by tomorrow evening will have them entirely completed. Work on the throne has commenced. The platform will be erected from the stage projecting into the dancing floor. Mr. Paty says the floor will not be planed, as previous planings have worn the boards down to the nails. It will be thoroughly cleaned, scraped, scrubbed and waxed and will be in fine condition Tuesday.

The erection of the boxes takes off much of the dancing floor space, and the maskers will be crowded. The throne will also take up much needed room. If the partitions of the company rooms were removed all possibility of crowding would be done away with.
